

EPEI Chart components

The blue "slice" shows the unused time in the current interval. Some unused time may be desirable to allow demand variation, maintenance activities etc..

The green "slices" represent production of the different products, eVSM allows for the user to specify the sequence in which production occurs as changeover times between products can vary